RITCHIE-OTTO.

Friends in this city have received cards announcing the wedding of Miss Mayme Ritchie to Mr. Louis F. Otto. Mr. Otto is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Otto, of Springdale, and is well known in this city, having worked here on the C. & O. railroad as a telegrapher for number of years. He is at the present time employed in the same capacity by the Great Northern railroad.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT.

Squire Fred W. Bauer had "Aunt" Fanny Moorefield, better known as "the Clutching Hand," because of her right hand being cut off at the wrist, before him Wednesday on the charge of being drunk. After hearing "Aunt" Fanny's story, the Squire decided that the fine of $5.15 would be about the right penalty for her offense. She gave good security for the fine and was released.

DAM BABY.

The stork visited Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Dickens at their home on Forest avenue Wednesday morning and left a bouncing boy. Mother and child doing fine and father is as proud as can be. Mr. Dickens is an employee of the Bates-Rogers Company, working at the dam.

CASE COMPROMISED.

The case of Dr. W. H. Hord vs. Curtis Weaver, a suit in the Circuit Court in which the sum of $1,025 was asked as damages, was settled out of court. The plaintiff took the sum of $65 as a full settlement of the debt.

O. R. & C. HAS BIG WRECK.

News was received here that the O. R. & C. railroad, leading out of Ripley, met with an accident Wednesday when the fast flyer plunged over a trestle. Whether or not any one was injured could not be ascertained.

Mrs. M. B. Pickett and daughter, Miss Catherine, of Chicago, are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Osborne, of Dover.

Mrs. J. T. Edmonson and Mrs. Water Stewart and son, Jerome, of Flemingsburg, were shopping in this city yesterday.

Mr. Robert Buckner, of Mt. Olivet, was in this city shaking hands with his many friends Wednesday.

TAKES STRYCHNINE

George W. Burr, aged 55, committed suicide at his home on Chester street Wednesday afternoon about 5 o'clock by taking strychnine. Burr for some time had been despondent over the condition of his health and had on several occasions threatened to take his life. Wednesday afternoon he went into his residence to get a milk can, preparatory to milking the cows of Mr. W. D. Cochran for whom he worked at times. Procuring the can he proceeded to milk and having finished the task, returned to his home, telling his wife as he entered that he had taken the strychnine.

His wife upon hearing of the rash deed summoned a doctor and when she returned found her husband lying over the bed in a semi-conscious condition. Before the physician could reach him the unfortunate man passed away. Coroner Charles Slack was called and held an inquest, the verdict being as follows:

"We, the jury, find that the body before us is that of one George Burr, of the Sixth Ward, City of Maysville, county of Mason, state of Kentucky, and from the evidence find that he came to his death from strychnine poisoning taken while despondent over ill health at his home on Chester street, city.

"W. B. WALLINGFORD, Foreman.

"CHARLES CORB,
"E. W. KELLY,
"W. T. CARPENTER,
"M. T. WOODS,
"T. M. HESLER."

The deceased, it was found later, purchased the drug from a local drug store. When he purchased the poison he was in the best of spirits and joked with the druggist. He told the clerk who sold him the strychnine that he intended to kill rats with it. He is survived by his wife and six children, all of whom are grown. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL.

Mr. Thomas L. Ewan, the real estate man, sold the Jeorger property on West Second street, near Wall, to Mr. Ben Greenlee Wednesday afternoon. Consideration private. This residence is one of the neatest arranged pieces of property in the city and many purchasers were after it.

WEIS.

LEGISLATION.

Washington, September 22.—Proper protection against tuberculosis and trachoma, dread diseases that threatened the lives and health not only of American Indians but American citizens in their vicinity, was delayed an entire year by the Democratic Congress.

Failure of the Democrats in the first session of the present Congress to pass the Indian appropriation bill until late in the summer prevented the Indian Bureau from letting contracts for tuberculosis and trachoma hospitals promptly and their construction had to go over to the following season.

In urging the immediate necessity for these hospitals, officials from the Indian Bureau testified to members of Congress that entire Indian tribes might be wiped out if the ravages of the disease among them were not checked. It was also claimed that the lack of adequate facilities for quarantine was a menace to thousands of citizens in communities near the various reservations.

In spite of these alarming warnings, the passage of the bill was delayed week after week. The money was still unappropriated at the close of the fiscal year, and twice for periods of two weeks temporary appropriations were passed. Under neither of these, however, could anything be done toward providing the hospitals.

By the time the bill was finally passed it was too late to secure bids and let contracts for the proposed isolation and sanitary hospitals, and they were not built until the next year.

This is but one instance of the many disastrous effects caused by slovenly Democratic methods in handling Indian appropriations. Not only hospitals but dormitories, school buildings, agency quarters and other similar structures were set back a year in construction.

Furthermore, the Democrats failed to pass this year's Indian bill at all. A re-enactment of last year's appropriation became necessary, forcing the Indian Bureau to conduct its affairs on plans nearly two years old, and that putting an untold check upon its efficiency.

GREATEST DEFICIT EVER FACED IN GREAT BRITAIN.

London, September 21.—Forty per cent increase in the income tax and other drafted levies to meet the greatest deficit ever faced by the British nation, were proposed to the government tax budget introduced in the House of Commons this afternoon by Chancellor of the Exchequer, Reginald McKenna.

ESSENTIAL REPUBLICANISM.

Addressing a Young Men's Republican Club out west, ex-President Taft has sought to formulate the terms upon which Progressives may reunite with the Republican party. They will be welcomed back, he says, but there is no place in Republicanism for some of the ideas which they have held.

Mr. Taft's intimation is that returning Progressives are to be held up on the dock, like returning tourists from Europe, while their baggage and their persons are searched for smuggled goods. We doubt if this method will prove popular.

Heretofore there has been no running of the gauntlet, no scrutiny of credentials for men who have sought affiliation with the Republican party. Republicanism has been inclusive in its scope. The party has been big enough to contain both Mr. Taft and Senator LaFollette, for example. There have been, and are, certain essential principles on which Republicanism is founded and to which all Republicans adhere. Orderly constitutional government, protection through tariffs to American labor and capital, sturdy defense of American rights, an adequate and satisfactory currency system—these are the essentials of Republican faith since the days of Fremont. Whoever subscribes to these declarations and who evidences his faith by support of the Republican ticket is a Republican, nationally speaking. These things will be found not only in national Republican platforms, but in state Republican platforms as well; while in the latter will be many other things of local application which in no wise detract from the quality of national Republicanism. For instance, a Republican in Oregon will hold to many principles—for Oregon—which a Republican in Rhode Island never has subscribed to. Yet both are Republicans, as Mr. Taft will have to admit.

We do not believe in any other test for Republicanism. Especially we can not admit the right of any one man—President or ex-President or any other man or any group of men, to say who shall enter or re-enter the Republican party or upon what terms. So far as we are concerned any Progressive who wishes to join the Republican party can come in without the indignity of being frisked for concealed principles. Is he a protectionist? Does he believe in a strong foreign policy? Does he favor an adequate national defense? Is he for legislative and administrative sanity? The man who supports these principles is a Republican by all the tests which any one has the right to impose. In no other way can Republicanism live and grow; in no other way has Republicanism lived and grown. The doors of the Republican party swing inward and neither Mr. Taft nor any other man can close them or narrow the entrance. Those Progressives who have already come in have been warmly welcomed. A like welcome awaits the others who are on the way.

QUEEN WILHELMINA AND PRINCESS HAD A VERY NARROW ESCAPE.

The Hague, September 21.—Queen Wilhelmina and the 6-year-old Princess Juliana Louise, narrowly escaped death or serious injury today while returning from the government building where the queen addressed the opening session of parliament. The motor car in which the queen and princess were riding collided head on with another auto. Both machines were almost completely wrecked, but the queen and princess escaped with slight bruises. Two occupants of the other car were seriously injured and removed to the hospital.

LEADERSHIP OF CZAR IS CRITIZED.

London, September 21.—The Russian Czar has not been so successful in his army leadership as the deposed grand duke. The military critics of the Times hint today in discussing the possibility that the Russians in the Vilna region may be unable to escape from Von Hindenburg's troops. The Times' critics declared it was the poorest strategy for the Slavs to permit the German cavalry to sweep around the flank and seize the railway east of Vilna.

BRYAN CALLS ON PRESIDENT.

Washington, September 22.—William J. Bryan saw President Wilson at noon today it was announced at the White House.

SPORT LETTER.

Cincinnati, September 22.—There's got to be an awful reversal in form on the part of the Philadelphia Nationals during the next two weeks to cheat them out of the championship and the opportunity for cutting in on the world's series fortune. Of course, there still is a prospect of the Boston and the Brooklyns nosing out the Quakers; but so consistent has been the work of Pat Moran's Sleeptown brigade during the last month or so, and so much better has been its work on the present western trip than any either of its previous visits to this territory, that there is little or no reason to believe that the Phillies will "blow" before the end of the season.

During their recent series here the prospective champions showed nothing extraordinary. Indeed, but for the inability of Dale to handle a wet ball on Saturday the Reds would have taken two games of the three. Which means that the Reds are playing as good baseball today as the Phils—and probably could down them in a short series. As between the Phillips and their prospective rivals from the American League—the Boston or the Detroit—the dope shows a return of the world's championship honor to the American League. But, as Bernard Shaw says, you never can tell.

To hear the comment of the Cincinnati fans, and to note the attention at the local games these days, one never would dream that the end of the season is less than two weeks distant, so far as the Reds are concerned. Local enthusiasts are all worked up over the prospect of Herzog's men easing into a berth in the first division, and every victory scored by the locals sends the fans up to the seventh heaven of delight. Never before in the history of the game here has there been so much genuine enthusiasm and such loyal support shown as is being manifested this year. And there is more than civic pride or sentiment behind this demonstration. The fans realize that the Reds are playing as good baseball as any team in the league; and as there always is a strong demand for the right brand of baseball merchandise, the Reds are doing a flourishing business.

Two extremely interesting Sundays still loom up for the followers of the Reds before the curtain is rung down on the season of 1915. Next Sunday they will have the aspiring Brooklyns for their opponents, and besides trying to keep them out of first place, will endeavor to make sure their own prospect of landing in the first four. Incidentally there will be staged a test that has long been in doubt, namely, whether a baseball or a golf ball can be driven farthest. Professional golfers will endeavor to drive a golf ball from the home plate over the center-field fence and powerful fungo hitters, including Mike Mitchell, the American champion, will try to send a baseball on a similar journey. For the final game of the season on Sunday, October 3, a series of field events, in which Cincinnati and Pittsburgh players will compete, will be staged in connection with the game between the Reds and the Pirates.

Those out-of-town fans who can arrange to get to Cincinnati next Saturday should not miss this opportunity of seeing a series of most interesting events staged at Redland Field in connection with the game between the Reds and the Brooklyns. On this occasion the members of the Ohio State Legislature will be the guests of the citizens of Cincinnati and for their special benefit there will be added to the game an exhibition drill by the Cincinnati police department; fire fighting demonstration by the fire department; cabaret performance; band concert and other features that will make up the greatest outdoor entertainment ever offered here or elsewhere.

Those few howlers who declared that the Packey McFarland-Mike Gibbons battle of a week or so ago was a "frame-up" are being shamed and decried by the many experts who sat at the ringside during the ten-round go between these two fistic gladiators. It is the consensus of opinion among fair minded sporting men that the bout was the most scientific ever fought in this country or elsewhere, and the fact that it was devoid of bloody brutality was rather to its credit than otherwise. When followers of the boxing game learn to appreciate defense rather than slugging ability, the fistic sport will occupy a higher place in the estimation of the general public than it does at present.

GREECE, BULGARIA AND ROUMANIA MAY PLUNGE INTO THE WAR AT AN EARLY DATE.

Rome, September 21.—Three more nations, Roumania, Bulgaria and Greece, may plunge into the world war before the first snow falls in the Balkans. The Roumanian capital is already wildly excited over the rumors reaching there Sunday that large bodies of German troops were transported through Hungary last week and concentrated near Temesvar within striking distance of both the Servian and Roumanian borders. The official statement issued at Berlin yesterday reporting the arrival of German batteries on the Austro-Servian border, evidently had not been received in Roumania in Bucharest dispatches that were filed to Rome yesterday. Despite the promises sent by the Austrian foreign office, the Austro-Roumanian border has not been reopened. No trains have been permitted to pass for more than a fortnight, according to reports reaching here, and all travelers are halted by Austrian frontier patrols. The Roumanians believe that forces are being massed close to the frontier for a demonstration in case Roumania shows signs of entering the war on the side of the allies.

The greatest military activities since the beginning of the war were reported at both Sofia and Athens. Bulgarian troops are marching through the capital galy. The "Pro-German war party" is using every effort to stir people to enthusiasm for the Bulgarian participation in the war. The German minister to Bulgaria was received in audience by Premier Radostovoff yesterday. Sofia dispatches are beginning to bear evidence of close censorship. The Grecian Premier Venizelos, has been in daily conference with the members of his cabinet and leaders of the Grecian "war party," which returned him to office after his resignation.

FRESH AT NIGHT

If One Uses the Right Kind of Food.

If by proper selection of food one can feel strong and fresh at the end of a day's work, it is worth while to know the kind of food that will produce this result.

A school teacher out in Kans. says in this connection:

"At the time I commenced the use of Grape-Nuts my health was so poor that I thought I would have to give up my work altogether. I was rapidly losing in weight, had little appetite, was nervous and sleepless, and experienced, almost constantly, a feeling of exhaustion."

"I tried various remedies without good results; then I determined to give particular attention to my food, and have learned something of the properties of Grape-Nuts for rebuilding body, brain and nerves."

"Since using Grape-Nuts I have made a constant and rapid improvement in health, in spite of the fact that all this time I have been engaged in strenuous and exacting work."

"I have gained twelve pounds in weight and have a good appetite, my nerves are steady and I sleep soundly. I have such strength and reserve force that I feel almost as strong and fresh at the close of a day's work as at the beginning."

"Before using Grape-Nuts I was troubled much with weak eyes but as my vitality increased the eyes became stronger."

"I never heard of another food as nutritious and economical as Grape-Nuts."

"There's a Reason." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

CAZAR'S ARMY RETREATING IN DISORDER.

London, September 21.—"It is reported from the Balkans," says the Overseas News Agency, "that the Serbian government has declared the Serbo-Bulgarian frontier a war zone."

It is also reported that Bulgarian troops are concentrated near the Serbian frontier and that German and Austro-Hungarian troops have been concentrated since a certain date along the Serbian border line.

The German entire movement against the Russian army which evacuated Vilna, has appreciably intensified and tightened, and, with the retreating forces virtually without rail communication, the retreat seems to have reached the most critical juncture. There is increasing misgiving in London with regard to the outcome of the maneuver.

The latest Berlin official communication shows advances by Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's right wing as well as progress by Prince Leopold of Bavaria in the center.

French Cross Canal.

The only development from the point of view of the allies, as an offset to the continued rush of the Germans in the east is the news received from Paris that French troops have crossed the Aisne-Marne canal a claim which Berlin concedes. The British front, which has been so quiet for weeks, has been hammered by the German artillery, but, according to the British official report, prompt retaliation by the British balanced the score.

France Claims Success.

Paris asserts that the French troops have captured portions of the German positions at Epily and Rancourt in Lorraine, and the German works in the region of Laneprey and Hallowville. In addition Paris declares that in the heavy bombardments at other points along the line perceptible damage has been suffered to the German trenches and opposing batteries have been silenced.

Heavy bombardments along the Austro-Italian front, with both sides claiming advantages for their guns at various points.

Constantinople reports that on the Gallipoli peninsula allied troops constructing fortifications near Anatolia and Seddul-Bahr have been disposed by Turkish guns and that a large portion of the allied trenches near Art-Burnu destroyed by Turkish artillery fire.

Berlin reports that a large British transport bound from Egypt was sunk off the Island of Crete in the Mediterranean.

And how many there are like this husband—people who really have time only to breathe the breath of business. There is no moment for reflection, no moment to enjoy repose and silence. In the words of Stevenson:

"We are in such haste to be doing, to be gathering gear, to make our voice audible, that we forget that one thing of which these are but the parts—namely—to live."

"We run to and fro upon the earth like frightened sheep, and now . . . ask yourself, if when all is done, you would not have better to hit by the fire at home and be happy thinking."

Wise words. To stand still is to stagnate, but the other extreme carries its penalties. You are always looking forward to the day when you have accomplished this, that or the other thing, and you say to yourself, "Ah, then is the time for me to stop and really live."

And how you fool yourself, because you are trying to fool Father Time—a losing game. For he has had thousands of years ahead of you and thousands yet to come.

SHOULD HUSBANDS PUT ALL THEIR TIME IN WORK?

A woman sat alone in her beautiful home. She had just finished a dinner served all alone. She had postponed the meal hour for the husband that did not come home. Instead the telephone bell had rung and she knew instinctively almost the very words her husband would say:

"Sorry, dear, but we didn't get through with that deal and I shall have to stay downtown for dinner to get it closed up."

All of this she told me, this friend of mine, when I called. "I am not complaining," she said, "for Henry is the best husband in the world. He just works himself to death for us. There is nothing we could wish for, the little ones and myself, that we would not give us. He almost anticipates our wants—the material things. Other women would say I was to be envied to have a husband who provides so well. But, ah, me," she sighed, "he is on the crest of the wave all the time. His hair is already growing gray and he has never had a real vacation in years. The children do not often see him in a week. They are in bed when he comes home in the evening and he is away in the morning usually before they are up. He takes times for everything but to live. Most of the time I must go out with friends or take the children to a matinee. Indeed, I would rather do with less and have my husband with us more—in a word, to realize that existence means something more than success in business."

TO PLAY IN CHARLESTON.

Charleston, W. Va., September 22.—The Pittsburg Pirates and the Cincinnati Reds, both members of the National League, will play an exhibition game in Charleston according to an announcement. Buck Herzog will bring the veteran Tommy Leahy, Ivy Wingo and the sterling Henie Groth with the club, while Fred Clarke will present in his lineup Hans Wagner, the Flying Dutchman, and all of the other Pirate celebrities. Jake Daubert, ex-Senator, will appear in a Pittsburg uniform.

PERSISTENT REPORTS ARE CURRENT DURING THE DAY THAT THE ENTIRE MATTER WOULD BE SETTLED TOMORROW AND THAT A FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT MIGHT BE EXPECTED WITHIN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS. THIS, IN VIEW OF THE FACT THAT PENS HAS NOT YET BEEN PUT TO PAPER BY THE NEGOTIATORS, WAS SAID TO BE A BIT PREMATURE. BUT THERE WAS UNANIMOUS CONFIRMATION OF THE REPORT THAT BOTH PARTIES TO THE PROCEEDINGS WERE VERY NEARLY TOGETHER IN THEIR PLANS.

MORE PROGRESS WAS SAID TO HAVE BEEN MADE TODAY THAN ON ANY OTHER TWO PREVIOUS DAYS.

LABOR LEADERS FAVOR CARRANZA,

EVERY PERSON ABOARD GREEK LINER IS SAVED.

New York, September 21.—The American liner Tuscania arrived in port tonight with 339 passengers and seventy of the crew of the Greek steamship Athina, which was abandoned at sea late Sunday afternoon after she had been afire for thirty-six hours. Every soul on board the burning vessel was saved.

THE STEAMSHIP ROUMANIAN PRINCE IS DUE HERE TOMORROW WITH FIFTY-SIX OF THE CREW AND FIVE PASSENGERS RESCUED AT THE SAME TIME.

PENSIONS BLOCKED BY DEMOCRATS.

Washington, September 22.—"The Democrats have made a shameful record of carelessness in the enactment of special pension bills, and will have a lot to answer for."

This vigorous protest was uttered by a Grand Army veteran who recently arrived early in Washington to attend the encampment next week.

"A number of my comrades for whom special pension bills had been passed died in want," said this old soldier. "They did not receive their special pension because the Democrats had made errors in the wording of the special laws, and death came before the errors were corrected."

Examination of the special pension legislation by the Democrats furnishes a scathing indictment of shocking inefficiency.

Scarcely an omnibus pension bill has been passed since the Democrats came into power that is not honeycombed with mistakes which blocked the payment of pensions to old soldiers.

These mistakes could have been avoided by the exercise of the simplest degree of ordinary care. In some instances when the bills were drafted the name of the soldier was misspelled or the wrong initials were given. In others the name was correct but an error was made in describing the company in which he served; and in other cases names and company were right, but the regiment of the soldier was wrong.

Either error was fatal to the payment of the pension Congress had awarded, because the bill did not exactly correspond with the official records of the pension office. The commissioner was therefore unable legally to put the name of the soldier on the pension rolls.

When the pension officials discovered these errors they were reported to the invalid pensions committee of the House and Senate. Attempts were then made to correct the faulty laws by the passage of joint resolutions in which the mistakes were described and rectified. But their passage was delayed for weeks and months, and even then some of the corrections were inaccurate.

Meanwhile death was thinning the ranks of the old soldiers at a rate estimated above 40,000 a year, with the result that a large percentage of the veterans in whose behalf the laws were enacted died without receiving the recognition which their government had declared was due them.

In striking contrast to this Democratic record, the history of special pension legislation under Republican rule shows that errors of this sort rarely if ever occurred.

KAISER WAS SLIGHTLY INJURED.

Amsterdam, September 21.—Kaiser Wilhelm and Prince Jobiam were slightly injured in an auto accident according to Berlin dispatches today. The imperial auto was wrecked the dispatches said. No further details were given.

I BELIEVE I WOULD HAVE DIED IF I HADN'T TAKEN IT.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fatten up, and grow so much stronger in three months, I feel like another person altogether.

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly

HOW TO MAKE A HIT WHEN YOU GO TO THE MOVIES.

First—Come in late. When the usher assures you that there isn't a vacant seat in the house further front than next to the last row, don't believe him. Saunter down the aisle and take a leisurely survey yourself until the people hiss at you for obscuring their view of the picture.

Second—When the usher comes down to expostulate with you, hold an animated conversation with him, still in the aisle.

Third—When you finally discover the vacant places don't choose the ones on the aisle in the last row. On the plea of getting closer to the screen make fourteen people in next to the last row clutch their hats, coats, canes, umbrellas, handbags, etc., and rise to allow you to pass in front of them just at the second that the hero fires the fatal shot at the villain.

Fourth—As you twist your way to the desired seat step on gouty toes, fall over a couple of splinters in the floor and click your tongue against the roof of your mouth every once in so often in violent protest at some inconsiderate person's bonpoint.

Fifth—Don't take your hat off until the usher reminds you of it. Then before you comply with the request look daggers at the persons immediately in back of you and remark, audibly, to your friend: "My goodness! This dinky little hat, too, when I wore it on purpose so's not to trouble any one! Just for that I'm going to fluff my hair way out. Heavens! People are getting fussy in these 15-cent shows! You'd think you were at the opera!"

Sixth—if you are seeing a movie that has been adapted from a book or a play be sure to tell your companion in just what way the situations have been changed. This way: "Why, in the book it doesn't end that way at all! He doesn't go away. If I remember rightly he stays and forces the other man to the wall or drives her out, or makes her father come and get her, or something. Anyway, it's different from this, and much, much better!"

Seventh—Give the life history of the leading lady as you've culled it from the different movie magazines. Tell how her fatal beauty has caused all the leading men to become infatuated with her; how she has to have them when they get too troublesome; how she gets twenty-five hundred a week; how she has a husband who drinks; how the millionaire owner of the company gives her limousines and how she pretends to win them in popularity contests, and how you have a first cousin who can act all around her and is much more beautiful, but she gets only thirty-five a week because she was brought up at home!

RECORD OF THE PAST

NO STRONGER EVIDENCE CAN BE HAD IN MAYSVILLE

London, September 21.—The 4,000-ton British steamer Linkmoor has been sunk by a German submarine. Her crew was rescued.

Look well to their record. What they have done many times in years gone by is the best guarantee of future results. Anyone with a bad back; any reader suffering from urinary troubles from kidney ills, should find comforting words in the following statement.

Mrs. John Burns, Maysville, says: "I was subject to severe spells of backache and kidney trouble. They came on every three or six months and at times I was confined to bed and almost helpless. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me quick benefit. Since then when I have noticed slight return attacks of backache, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and they have never failed to quickly check the trouble."

OVER SEVEN YEARS LATER Mrs. Burns said: "The statement I gave before praising Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good. I know that this medicine acts as represented."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Burns has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

FLAG DAY CELEBRATION.

On Friday, September 24, at 2:45, the grade children of the city will meet at the corner of Limestone and Second streets where there will be exercises of about twenty-five minutes duration. In addition to singing "America," "Star Spangled Banner" and "Old Kentucky Home," after hoisting the large flag recently purchased by the Lyceum Committee, the children in unison will give the pledge as arranged by the American Flag Association for use in public schools.

As 500 or 600 children will block both streets at the corner, we would appreciate traffic using other streets from 2:45 to 3:10. Chief Mackay has kindly consented to allow us to block the street at that time.

As the flag is being slowly raised, Mr. E. L. Perry, former bugler in the United States army, assisted by Mr. J. H. Randolph, director of the Maysville Band, and Mr. Nelson Breeze, will give the drum and trumpet corps. As soon as the flag gets in position at the top of the staff the children will give the pledge and sing "Star Spangled Banner." The crowd will then be dismissed with the bugler sounding the "disperse."

We would appreciate the attendance of as many adults as care to come.

W. J. CAPLINGER, Superintendent.

After enrollment was the election of officers as follows:

Col. R. R. Maltby, of Washington, was elected president for life.

Comrade R. S. Hudson, of the Tenth Cavalry, and Comrade E. K. Gault, of the Sixteenth Infantry, were elected vice presidents.

A rising vote of thanks was given to the secretary, Mrs. C. C. Degman.

The other officers were elected to serve during good behavior.

After the election the soldiers adjourned to dinner. The repast was all that could be desired. After dinner the veterans were entertained by Miss Edna McDonald, instrumental music, and Miss Mary Nell Ray's recitation. This was followed by a duet by the Boggs brothers. Miss Mabel Tolle sang solo, accompanied by Miss Edna McDonald. These selections were greatly appreciated by the soldiers and their friends. The Boggs brothers are blind and their playing shows what can be accomplished by study and hard work.

Mr. John Cogan has as a relic a hard tack he brought from the battle of Franklin, Ky.

Col. R. R. Maltby, the new president, made a very charming little speech. He turned the work of his office to Comrade R. S. Hudson. He also paid a very touching tribute to the late Thomas A. Davis.

Hon. W. A. Byron, Brooksville, Ky., Bracken county's silver-tongued orator, was introduced by the president.

Mr. Byron was the orator of the day. The president made no mistake when he requested Mr. Byron to take a place upon the program. His oration was replete with good things. From his introductory word to the closing sentence he held his audience. On several occasions he was applauded.

His reference to the bravery of the Tenth Kentucky Cavalry and the Sixteenth Kentucky Infantry at the battle of Franklin, Tenn., he left his hearers to infer that the Kentucky boys turned the tide of the Civil war.

Mr. Byron is being mentioned by his friends for Congress in this district.

The veterans adjourned to meet at the same time and place.

A hearty vote of thanks was given to the retiring officers for their work during the past year.

To the ladies who provided such a bountiful dinner and Mr. Robert Cochran for his thoughtful kindness in preparing the park for the reunion the veterans gave their heartiest thanks.

The day has past into history as one of the most delightful ever spent by them in our midst. The Ledger trusts that next year when the roll call may answer here. This year comrades John W. Beckett, Mt. Carmel; Charles Taylor, of Nepton, both of the Tenth, and W. H. Cox and Thomas J. Baker, both of Company E, Sixteenth Cavalry, have passed "over the river to rest under the shade of the trees."

Come again. The latch-string is always on the outside. The Ledge always welcomes the old soldier.

REUNION NOTES.

F. M. Harove, the Manchester banker, was down from his home, talking over the times of '61 and '65 with the boys. He is a little grayer but just as lively as ever.

Mrs. C. C. Degman and her assistant, Mrs. G. W. Hook, were attention to all the old soldiers.

Mrs. Wells, with her assistant, were in demand for the badges. The boys were proud of the badges.

Miss Hill and Mrs. Kaufman came in for much praise for the manner in which they handled the commissary department.

Mr. John L. King, from the Soldiers' Home, at Dayton, O., was the first boy on the ground.

Mrs. G. W. Spencer, of Buena Vista, O., was the first woman on the ground. Both of these parties know what the early days of the '60's meant.

Captain Thomas J. Wood has attended every reunion except one. He looks for a hundred more.

The visiting comrades were delighted with their treatment.

Last year several homes displayed flags on East Second street. This year but one house and the grounds were the only places where "Old Glory" floated.
